

Joyful O ye nations sing

Translated and paraphrased by William Dodd (1729–77)

Psalms 100

Hymn 7, by Phocion Henley (1728-64)
 Edited by Robert Barr and Francis Roads

Lively [$\text{♩} = 120$]

Soprano [Air]
 Joy-ful O ye na - tions sing, - Come and songs of glad-ness bring._

Alto
 Joy-ful O ye na - tions sing, Come and songs of glad ness bring._

Tenor 1
 Joy-ful O ye na-tions sing, Come and songs of glad-ness bring.

Tenor 2
 Joy-ful O ye na - tions sing, - Come and songs of glad ness bring.

Bass
 Joy-ful O ye na-tions sing, - Come and songs of glad ness bring.

Keyboard

9

S
 Cheer-ful ser-vice, thank-ful lays, - Come be-fore the Lord with praise.

A 1
 Cheer-ful ser-vice, thank - ful lays, Come be - fore the Lord with praise.

T
 Cheer-ful ser-vice, thank - ful lays, Come be -fore the Lord with praise._

T
 Cheer-ful ser-vice, thank-ful lays, Come be -fore the Lord with praise.

B
 Cheer-ful ser-vice, thank-ful lays, - Come be -fore the Lord with praise.

Kbd.

2. He is God, the King of kings,
 Who to all created things,
 Being gave, our shepherd he,
 We his sheep his people be.

3. Come then to his courts repair,
 Come, and gladly enter there,
 Enter glad with solemn songs,
 Holy hearts and tuneful tongues.

4. Well may we his praise proclaim,
 Goodness is his nature's name,
 Mercy never leaves his throne,
 Truth and God are ever one.

Small notes in bars 4 and 12 are instrumental.