

With heart and mouth unto the Lord

1

Paraphrased by Thomas Sternhold (1500-49)

Northampton by John Bishop (1665-1737)

Edited by Francis Roads

Psalm 9 verses 1-4

[♩=96]

Soprano

1. With heart and mouth to thee, O Lord, Will I sing
 2. I will be glad and much re-joice In thee, O
 3. Be-cause my foes are dri-ven back And turn-ed
 4. Thou hast a-veng-ed all my wrong, My grief and

Alto

Tenor [Air]

1. With heart and mouth to thee, O Lord, Will I sing
 2. I will be- glad and much re- joice In thee, O
 3. Be- cause my- foes are dri- ven back And turn- ed
 4. Thou hast a- veng- ed all my wrong, My grief and

Bass

8

S

laud and praise; And speak of all thy
God most high, And make my songs ex-
 un-to flight: They do fall down, and
all my grudge; Thou dost with jus-tice

A

T

8

laud and praise; And speak of all thy
God most high, And make my songs ex-
 un-to flight: They do fall down, and
all my grudge; Thou dost with jus-tice

B

13

S

won-drous works, And them de-clare al-ways.
-tol thy name A-bove the star-ry sky;
 are des-troyed By thy great pow'r and might.
hear my cause, Most like a right-eous judge.

A

T

8

won-drous works, And them de-clare al-ways.
-tol thy name A-bove the star-ry sky;
 are des-troyed By thy great pow'r and might.
hear my cause, Most like a right-eous judge.

B

Edited from Bishop's A set of new psalm tunes in four parts ... (London 1710) BL B.580.ww.
 Bishop underlays verse 1; verses 2-4 conjecturally added.