5. Yet flesh and sense are weak and frail,
 And we strayed from your care;
 So in your grace Incarnate Love
 You sent our life to share,
 You sent our life to share.
6. Still you sustain this universe,
 Love not to be denied,
 Though mortals flaunt their puny power
 And their ungrateful pride,
 And their ungrateful pride.
7. O loving Lord of all that is,
 Creation's joy and light!
 How could we fail to sing your praise,
 And utter our delight,
 And utter our delight!
