

Whoso, with full intent and mind

Paraphrased by William Kethe (d. 1594)

Anon.
Edited by Edwin Macadam and Francis Roads

Psalm 91 verses 1-6 (Scottish Psalter)

[Air]  $\text{♩} = 50$

1. Who - so, with full in - tent and mind, in God most high him - self doth stay:
 2. He sure - ly will thee free - ly set Far from the craf - ty hun - ter's snare,
 3. Thou shall not need to be dis - mayed for a - ny fear to come by night,

1. Who - so, with full in - tent and mind, in God most high him - self doth stay:
 2. He sure - ly will thee free - ly set Far from the craf - ty hun - ter's snare,
 3. Thou shall not need to be dis - mayed for a - ny fear to come by night,

1. Who - so, with full in - tent and mind, in God most high him - self doth stay:
 2. He sure - ly will thee free - ly set Far from the craf - ty hun - ter's snare,
 3. Thou shall not need to be dis - mayed for a - ny fear to come by night,

1. Who - so, with full in - tent and mind, in God most high him - self doth stay:
 2. He sure - ly will thee free - ly set Far from the craf - ty hun - ter's snare,
 3. Thou shall not need to be dis - mayed for a - ny fear to come by night,

7

S
His migh - ty pow'r that man shall find A sure de - fence to be al - way.
So that thou needst not fear his net, Nor yet for plagues no whit to care:
 Nor of the ar - row be a - fraid, Which forth is shot when it is light,

A
His migh - ty pow'r that man shall find A sure de - fence to be al - way.
So that thou needst not fear his net, Nor yet for plagues no whit to care:
 Nor of the ar - row be a - fraid, Which forth is shot when it is light,

T
His migh - ty pow'r that man shall find A sure de - fence to be al - way.
So that thou needst not fear his net, Nor yet for plagues no whit to care:
 Nor of the ar - row be a - fraid, Which forth is shot when it is light,

B
His migh - ty pow'r that man shall find A sure de - fence to be al - way.
So that thou needst not fear his net, Nor yet for plagues no whit to care:
 Nor of the ar - row be a - fraid, Which forth is shot when it is light, Edited from Edward Millar's The Psalmes of David in Prose Meeter, for the Heires of Andrew Hart (Edinburgh, 1635).

 The tune is from Calvin's Alcuns pseumes et cantiques (The Geneva Psalter, 1539).

Whoso, with full intent and mind

13

S
 And now say to the Lord will I, O thou mine hope and fort most
Un - der his wings he will thee hide, And there thee keep full well shall Nor yet the pes - ti - lence to fear Which in the dark doth much an -

A
 And now say to the Lord will I, O thou mine hope and fort most
Un - der his wings he will thee hide, And there thee keep full well shall Nor yet the pes - ti - lence to fear Which in the dark doth much an -

T
 And now say to the Lord will I, O thou mine hope and fort most
Un - der his wings he will thee hide, And there thee keep full well shall Nor yet the pes - ti - lence to fear Which in the dark doth much an -

B
 And now say to the Lord will I, O thou mine hope and fort most
Un - der his wings he will thee hide, And there thee keep full well shall
 Nor yet the pes - ti - lence to fear Which in the dark doth much an -

18

S
 sure: He is my God thus will I cry, My trust in him shall still en - dure.
he; Thee so de - fend on ei - ther side, His truth shall still thy buck - ler be.
 noy: Nor of the plague at noon day clear, Which doth full oft greatheaps des - troy.

A
 sure: He is my God thus will I cry, My trust in him shall still en - dure.
he; Thee so de - fend on ei - ther side, His truth shall still thy buck - ler be.
 noy: Nor of the plague at noon day clear, Which doth full oft greatheaps des - troy.

T
 sure: He is my God thus will I cry, My trust in him shall still en - dure.
he; Thee so de - fend on ei - ther side, His truth shall still thy buck - ler be.
 noy: Nor of the plague at noon day clear, Which doth full oft greatheaps des - troy.

B
 sure: He is my God thus will I cry, My trust in him shall still en - dure.
he; Thee so de - fend on ei - ther side, His truth shall still thy buck - ler be.
 noy: Nor of the plague at noon day clear, Which doth full oft greatheaps des - troy.